Organization Narrative

Founded in 1873, Morgan Lewis offers more than 2,000 lawyers, patent agents, benefits advisors, regulatory scientists, and other specialists—in 29 offices across the United States, Europe, Asia, and the Middle East. The firm provides comprehensive litigation, corporate, transactional, regulatory, intellectual property, and labor and employment legal services to clients of all sizes—from globally established industry leaders to just-conceived startups. Morgan Lewis is ranked number four among an elite group of 30 law firms singled out by corporate counsel for client service excellence in the BTI Client Service A-Team 2015 guide. We are one of only three firms appearing in “The BTI Client Service 30” for the 14th consecutive year. We also ranked among the top 5 law firms in

Corporate Counsel magazine's 2014 listing of "Who Represents America's Biggest Companies?"

Washington, D.C. OFFICE: Morgan Lewis's Washington, D.C. office represents clients whose interests are affected by nearly every facet of law in the nation's capital. The Washington, D.C. office dates back more than 50 years, and over time has become predominant in key areas involving the intersection of business and government. Many of our lawyers are former senior government officials. Today, the Washington, D.C. office has over 300 lawyers and has been expanding in targeted areas. We offer clients the advantage of working with lawyers who have a deep understanding of the inner workings of the federal government. Since the start of our Washington, D.C. office, we have been fortunate to recruit nationally recognized attorneys who served the government as senior regulators and decision makers. The cadre of high-ranking government officials began with a former chairman of the Federal Trade Commission; a commissioner of the Securities and Exchange Commission; and a deputy/acting administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency.

ASSOCIATE DEVELOPMENT: Morgan Lewis is focused on providing associates with opportunities and the tools for success. The Morgan Lewis Institute (MLI) was created to reflect the firm's belief that professional development is a career-long process. Our attorney development program incorporates the firm's expectations for each phase of an associate's career, starting with the new attorney orientation program. Additional components include a formal professional development plan that helps associates identify development goals, firmwide and practice-specific training curricula, mentoring program, practice group based assignment processes, and a substantive annual review and evaluation process that focuses on past performance and areas for development.

PRO BONO: At Morgan Lewis, we recognize our responsibility to provide legal services to those in our communities who otherwise could not afford them. We have publicly committed to contribute, at a minimum, three percent of the firm's total billable hours to pro bono work, and there is no distinction between pro bono hours and other billable hours in measuring the billable hour commitment of our attorneys. In 2014, Morgan Lewis lawyers contributed more than 76,000 hours to pro bono representations. Our firm also has a full-time pro bono partner, Amanda D. Smith, who handles the day-to-day administration of the pro bono practice and works to advance the quality of pro bono opportunities for our attorneys.

WORK/LIFE BALANCE: We support individuals throughout their careers at the firm to help them achieve excellence. A significant number of attorneys have flexible work schedules that allow a balance between career and personal life. The firm works with these attorneys to find solutions that meet the demands of their personal lives, their practices, and their clients.

DIVERSITY: Building a diverse team of attorneys is a core value at Morgan Lewis and part of our strategic focus. As a firm that emphasizes teamwork and collegiality, we value the differences in experience and outlook that our legal and non-legal staff bring to the firm. We draw upon the strengths of knowledgeable and skilled individuals who represent a variety of viewpoints, experiences, and backgrounds.

Our firm's chair, Jami Wintz McKeon, drives our efforts to create a welcoming environment where anyone with talent and energy can succeed. Her support, together with the support of others in firm management, makes our efforts real and substantial.

SUMMER PROGRAM: At Morgan Lewis, summer associates learn about our diverse practice, firm culture, and get to know our people. Our summer program launches with a unique Summer Associate Kickoff program where we bring together firm leaders and summer associates from all domestic offices. The kickoff provides opportunities for summer associates to interact with attorneys across offices and practice groups, and to meet with firm leaders. The program is also designed to introduce summer associates to firm operations, training initiatives, and to learn how to get engaged and succeed as a Morgan Lewis summer associate. To highlight our commitment to one of our core values, we include a community service, teambuilding activity into our summer kickoff program.

Morgan Lewis offers an innovative program, ml Summer Experiences. ml Summer Experiences allows summer associates to pursue one of three options during their summer with the firm. The Client and Community experiences, which we believe to be unique among U.S. law firms, focus on the valuable learning experiences gained outside of the law firm experience.

- Morgan Lewis Client Experience partners clients and summer associates to create ongoing, value-oriented relationships between our clients and the firm. This program facilitates the professional development of law students by providing a deeper understanding of the operations of and the issues handled by in-house legal departments, with the goal of developing client service skills at the very beginning of a legal career. Summer associates will be expected to spend four weeks with the client.
- Morgan Lewis Community Experience offers summer associates the opportunity to work with pro bono partner organizations. Law students will spend up to four weeks on assignment at a public interest or community service partner, such as the United Nations, Volunteer Lawyers for the Arts, and the Support Center for Child Advocates.
- Morgan Lewis Firm Experience offers summer associates a traditional law firm experience. Law students will spend all 10 weeks at a local office with opportunities for client work, pro bono challenges, and professional development training.
